Reflection of Life in Hegel

By Robert Pippin

I. Being – Simple Daily Objects

One can just negate the common public opinion, like that Sirohi commences on idealism, which in Hegel is self-conscious but also desiring consciousness which is Master and with a slave.

II. Essence

Just the process of reflections in Sirohi, which is a reflection of life. In Hegel reflections mirror the person – like a book which reflects the person as a philosopher, this is what Hegel calls Spirit as a category.

III. Logical Notion as a Process of Diremption and Extraneation – I am now a Philosopher

In fact then after diremption and conceptualized movements of reflecting life – a Absolute Spirit arises – he becomes this concrete Spirit – this is phenomenology of Spirit with Science of Logic – only compare pure being, to reflection and Concept into the simple being, as absolute and add Spirit.
